

EGWG Blog Writing Guidelines

1. Think of a compelling topic that fits with the mental health theme
2. Plan an outline of your article (i.e., an introduction, body, and conclusion)
3. Make sure to incorporate elements of ethical principles like confidentiality and autonomy relevant to the theme of your article
4. Ensure that your content is factually accurate
5. Work on building a flow between the paragraphs or sub-sections
6. Include interesting quotes or facts for emphasis on the subject
7. Add references of any facts or research to support your work.
8. Use culturally appropriate images that support your blog ideas
9. Consider cultural and religious sensitivities around the theme of your topic
10. Maintain respectful opinions throughout and be mindful of offensive comments towards social, ethnic, and religious minority groups.
